JOYNER STACKS

Reading Better, Reading Smarter addresses all areas of planning and implementing Scaffolded Reading Experiences (SREs) and prepares teachers to create their own SREs to scaffold their students’ reading. By considering the text, their students, and the purpose of the lesson, teachers will be able to create appropriate scaffolding for each reading experience their students face. This widely applicable text includes twenty-two types of pre-, during-, and postreading activities designed to lead students to success examples of each activity along with information on how to create each type of activity detailed classroom lesson plans and explanations of what an SRE is and what it is supposed to do guidance for evaluating and assessing the difficulty of texts and ways for evaluating student performance.

A lesson plan provides you with a general outline of your teaching goals, learning objectives, and means to accomplish them, and is by no means exhaustive. A productive lesson is not one in which everything goes exactly as planned, but one in which both students and instructor learn from each other. You may refer to an example of a 3 hour lesson plan here. Can be achieved within the given period and sufficient resources are available. Demonstrable and measurable. Can be demonstrated in a tangible way; are assessable; achievement and quality of achievement can be observed. Integrated course design. Manhattan, KS: The IDEA Center.
